

THE '69 JUNCTION

Eliza P. Hines

*The Junction
Volume XX*

*Gretna High School
Gretna, Virginia*

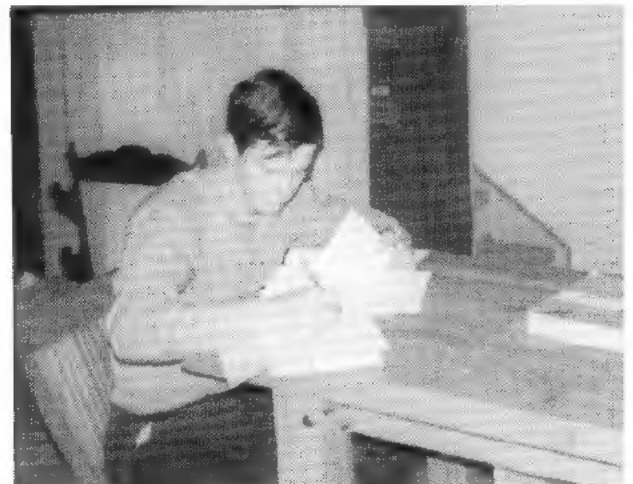

Foreword

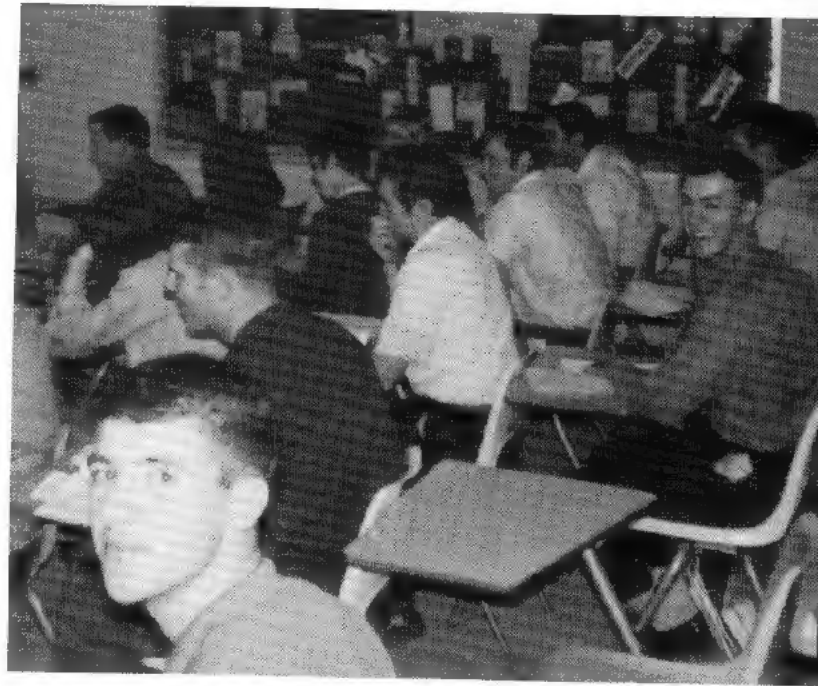

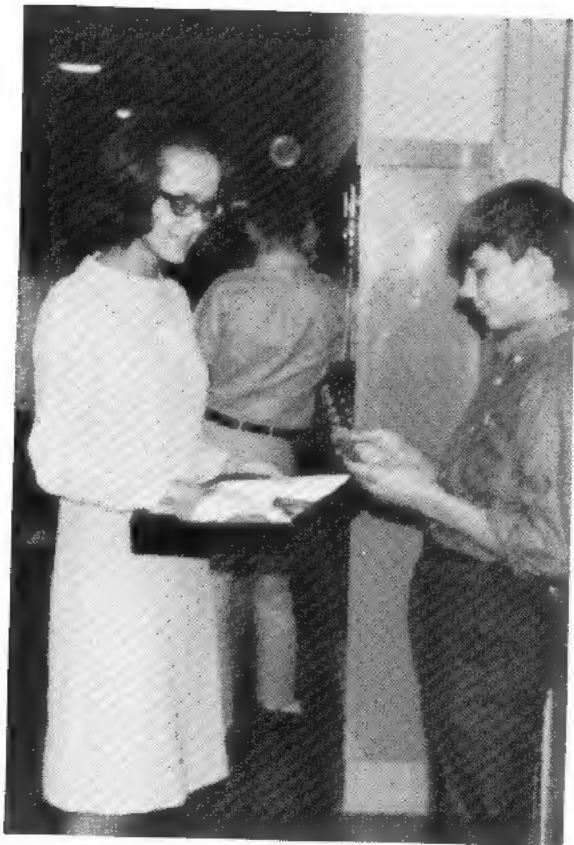

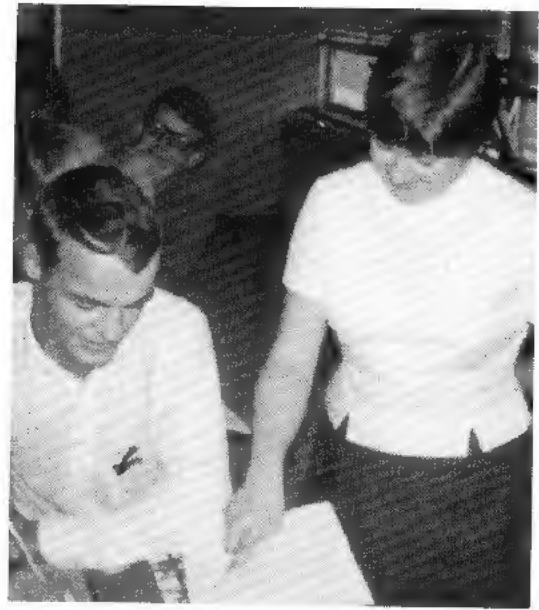

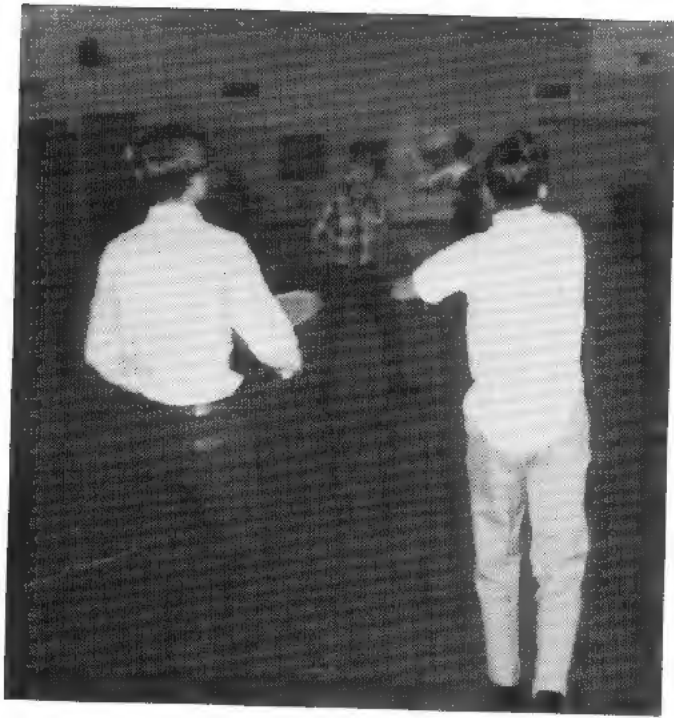

The students of Gretna High School find adventure and excitement in the simple ordinary happenings of each day. They find the few years put forth to master an education gives one a sound, solid foundation to support any task which might be undertaken. It seems impossible at first, but for those who work faithfully, the reward is great. Each guided by high principles, looks hopefully to the future. When he will no longer "speak as a child" and "be under tutors and governors" but will be a responsible adult facing life's "unchartered years". Putting their "best foot forward" these students find the going hard and the competition keen, but their walk is sure and steady. As a result, they are a credit to their school, their parents, and themselves.

Learn . . .

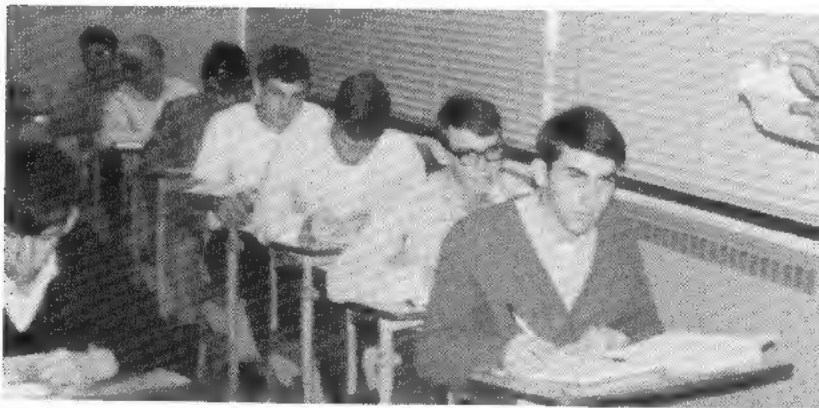

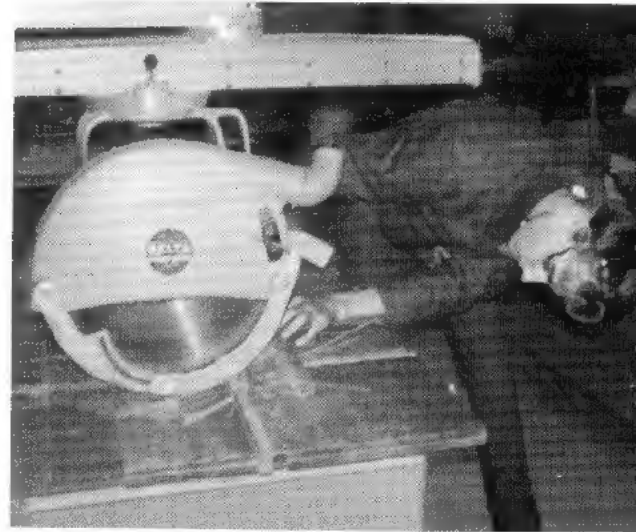

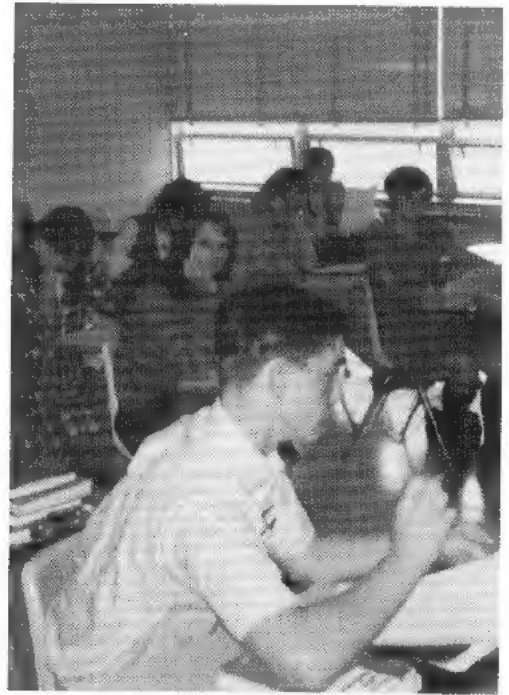

Laugh . . .

And Live . . .

At Gretna.

Dedication

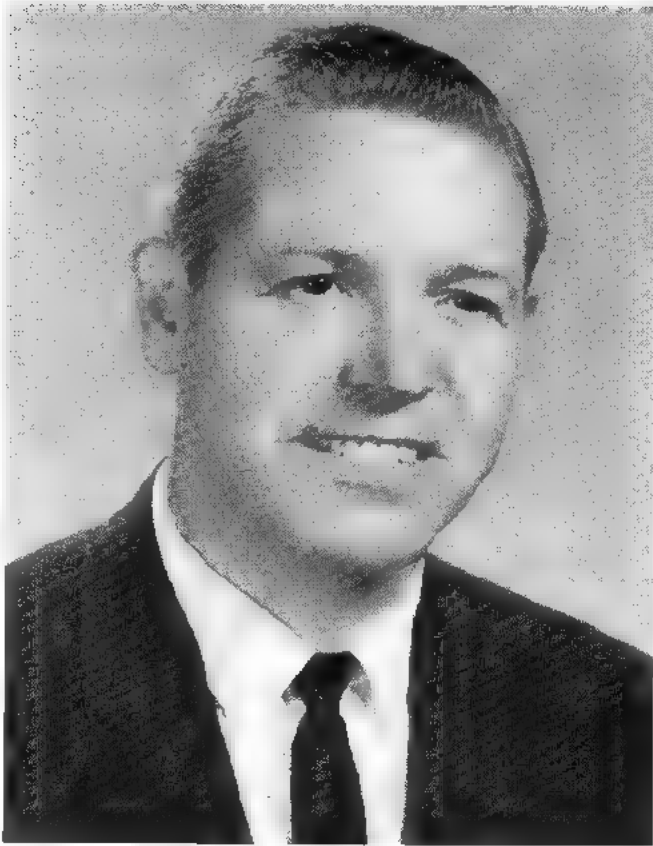

Life is a mixture of work, play, joy and sorrow. Life is a blending of proficiency, conscientiousness, enthusiasm, love and humility. Life is a new experience based upon wisdom of the ages. This heterogeneous mixture of these components is given substance and purpose through the everyday living of a husband-wife team on our faculty.

Mrs. Jeanette Moon and Mr. Ruthledge Moon, because of your sincere interest in each student and your outstanding accomplishments as teachers at Gretna High School. We proudly dedicate the 1968-69 JUNCTION to you.

ADMINISTRATION & FACULTY

To Her Counsels We'll Be True . . .

Principal

Mr. Earl W. Johnson--All students find in him a capable and interesting leader, who divides his time equally among all. To the faculty he is a friend, counselor, and advisor.

Assistant Principal

Mr. Frank D. Ingram--As assistant principal he endeavors to aid the principal and to carry out and enforce the rules and guide lines of Gretna High.

Members of the Pittsylvania County School Board are: SEATED: James P. Mayes, C. F. Adams, T. Anthony Pollard, Dr. G. V. Thompson, E. B. Fitzgerald; STANDING: James H. Combs, Nat M. Watlington, Charles E. Hagberg, and Harold Terry.

School Board

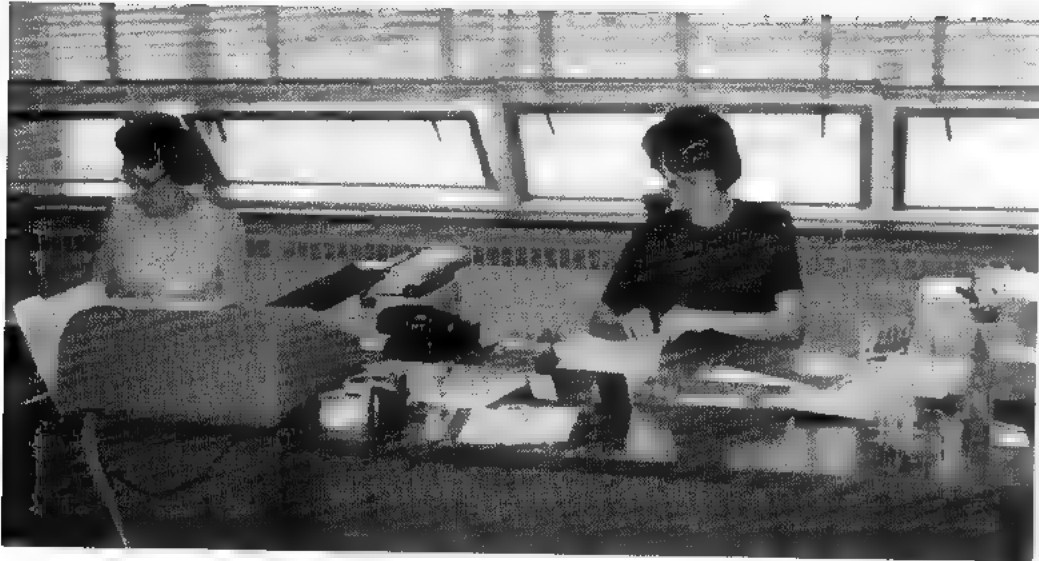

Mr. Charles E. Hagberg
A.B., M.A.
Assistant Superintendent of
Pittsylvania County

Mr. James H. Combs
B.S., M.Ed.
Division Superintendent of
Pittsylvania County

Secretaries

As secretaries, the work of Mrs. Clara Johnson and Mrs. Ruth Oakes is long and tedious. They are most helpful not only to Mr. Johnson and Mr. Ingram but also to the faculty and the students.

Guidance Counselors

Mrs. Minnie Hayes

Librarians

Mrs. Ewell Ramsey

Faculty Aids

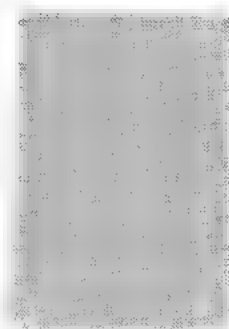

Mrs. Calvin Swart

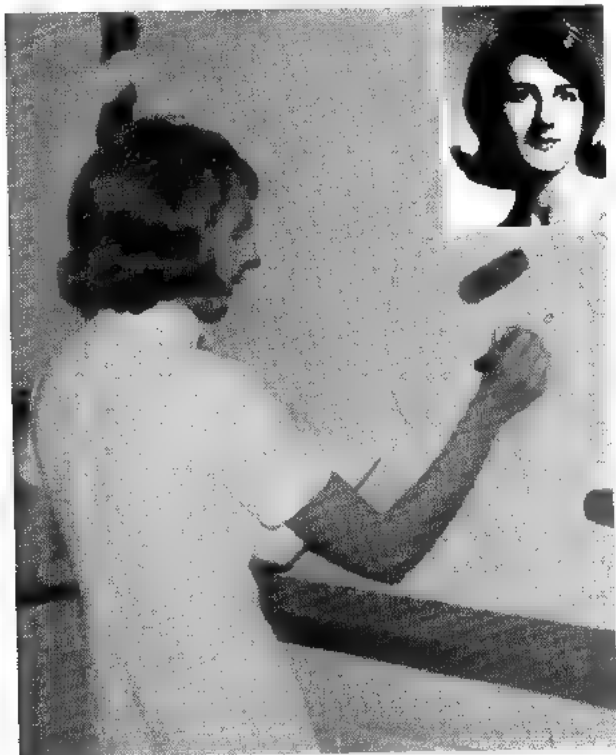

Mrs. Susan Coleman

Mrs. Ewell Hines

(Sub.) Mrs. Barbara Bryant

Mrs. Lou Harris--Her biology classes are full of experiments and discussions. As a sponsor of the Science Club, her enthusiasm is contagious.

Faculty Members Sponsor Our Clubs

Mrs. Ruth Hedrick--As one of our science teachers, her classes are informative and imaginative. Her pleasant manner makes her a well-liked teacher.

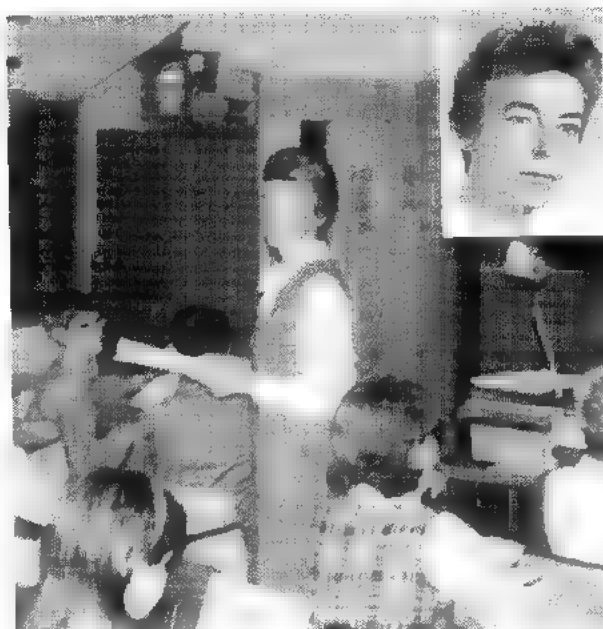

Mr. Dennis Craddock--His wit and good humor fill his classes with liveliness. As assistant coach of our football team, his help is appreciated.

Mr. Lonnie Terry--As a devout teacher, he instills deep thought and interests in his students and all who know him.

Mrs. Mary Epperson--Her interests in her students encourages them to do their best work in mathematics.

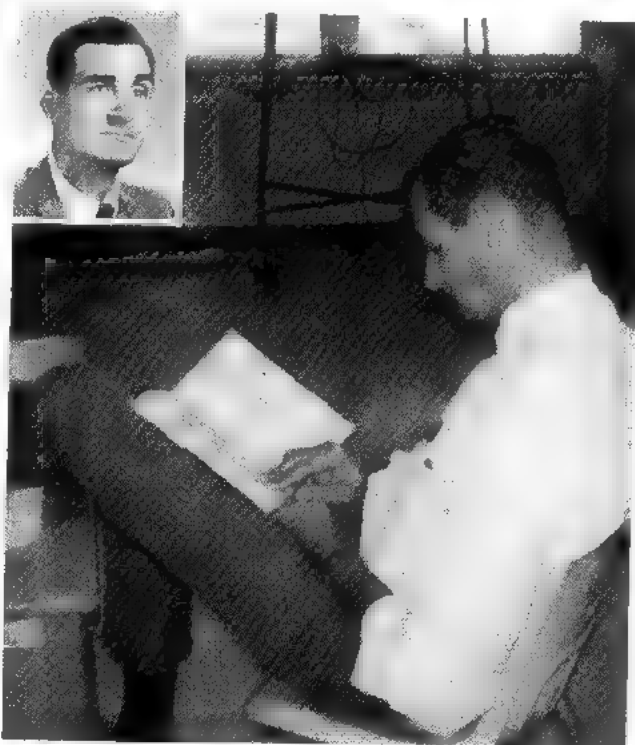

Mr. Alfred Collins--Through the combined efforts of its members and the conscientious work of our director, Mr. Collins, our chorus fulfills its high position.

Mr. Harold Johnson--Whether adding simple columns of figures or solving more difficult algebraic equations he is quite adept. His encouragement and enthusiasm in sports is especially appreciated by our track team.

Miss Linda Grant--Our ever-enlarging number of Spanish-speaking students owe their success to her. Her encouragement and constructive criticism is also appreciated by her many Art students.

Left: Mrs. Gloria Motley--The Gretna Girls Varsity team wants Mrs. Motley to know that she is appreciated for her fine coaching.

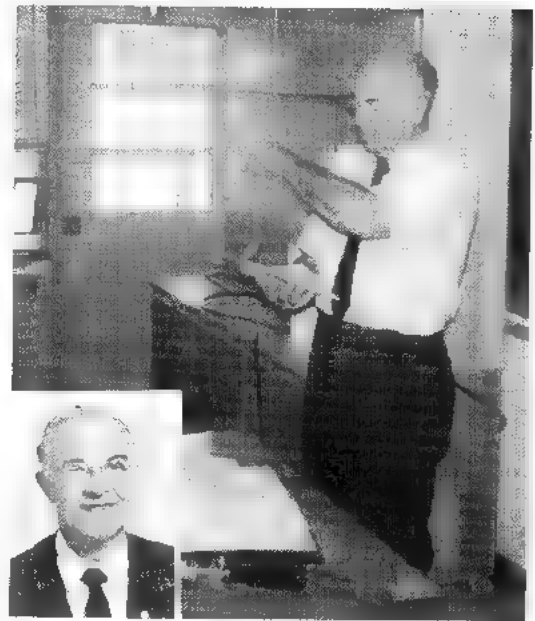

Mr. Roger Byrd--Having long legs ranks Mr. Byrd tops in two ways: teaching Physical Education and coaching the Boys Varsity basketball team.

Teachers Lead Active Lives.

Mrs. Patricia Short--Leaving her class, one feels that he has a good foundation of knowledge concerning his country.

Mr. Clifford Angel--Our future farmers find his encouragement and support helpful in planning their careers.

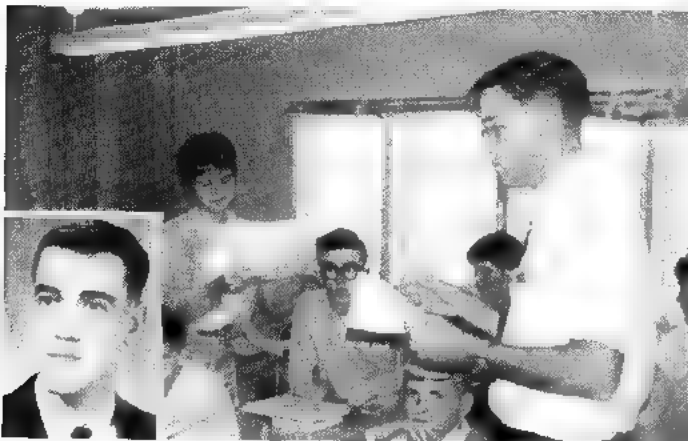

Mr. Calvin Swart--No matter when one goes into our band room, he finds Mr. Swart persisting but patiently helping our many musicians.

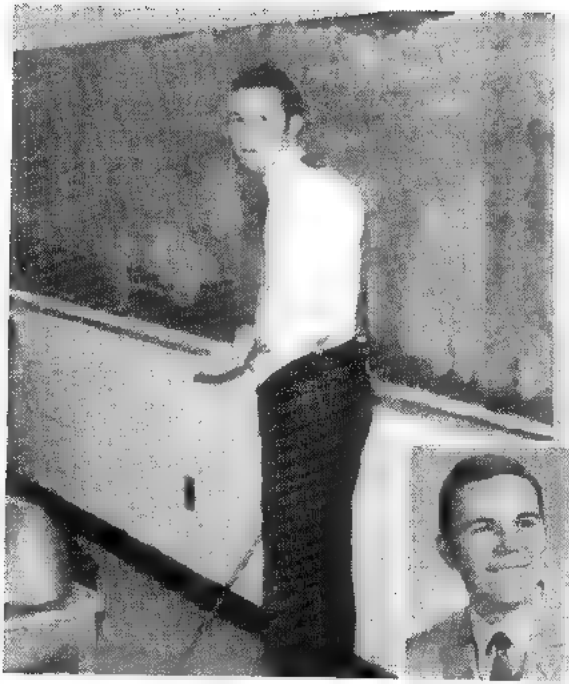

Mrs. Rita Jefferson--Her cheerful manner and gay spirit make English fun. Her modern ideas and helpful hints are appreciated by her Art students.

Mr. Thomas Jefferson--As the days progress his students become more and more acquainted with the physical features of the world today.

Below: Mrs. Dianne Mann--Our cheerleaders enjoy having her as their sponsor. Biology becomes an interesting adventure land when you're in her class.

Mr. Herman Wilkerson--To him mathematics in general business is no problem. As he is business manager for the yearbook, the Junction, he finds no need for worry.

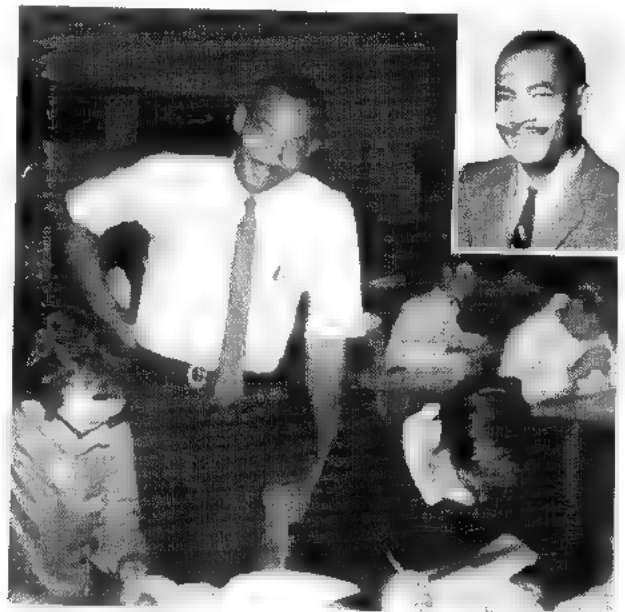

Mrs. Faye Quarles--English appears to be a new discovery under the skillful teacher of Mrs. Quarles.

Our Faculty Finds Pleasure In Its Duties.

Mrs. Rachel Del Campo--As an English teacher her work ranges from punctuation to literature. She finds enjoyment in her work as a teacher.

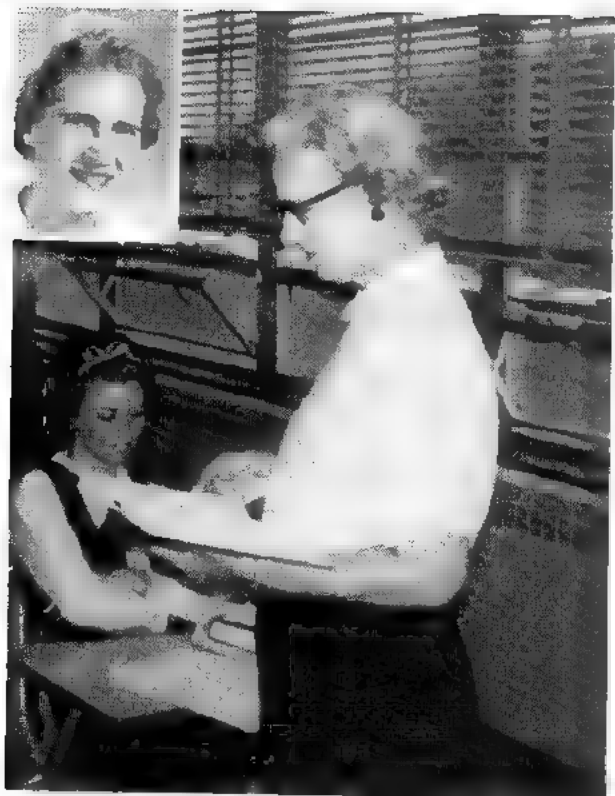

Mr. Robert Locust--An Industrial Arts teacher, he finds happiness in the well-done creations of his students.

Mrs. Hazel Lowe--Her creativeness and natural abilities make her work as a Home Economics teacher a pleasure.

Below: Mr. Aubrey Yeatts--Our eighth grade students find his classes in English both interesting and educational. His help as a Junction sponsor is truly appreciated.

Mrs. Mary Anderson--The eleventh grade enjoys studying their own ancestral background having Mrs. Anderson teach them.

Mrs. Pearl Berger--Sponsorship of the Parrot takes hard work and long hours but we gave it to Mrs. Berger because we knew she was willing to help anyone at anytime.

Teachers Say "Books" Is The Key Word For Learning

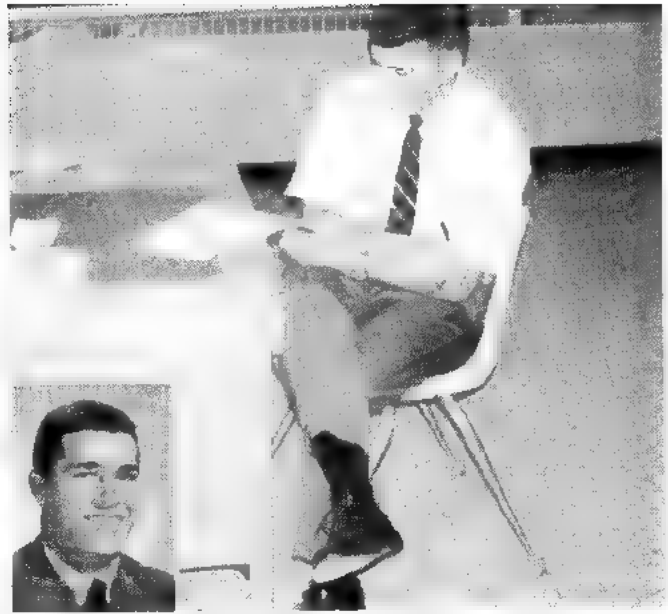

Mrs. Eula Angel--Mrs. Angel interests her Latin students when she sees they become bored by translating amo, amas, amat to _____, _____, and _____.

Mr. Mahlon Burnette--Since Mr. Burnette has a very nice personality, his students can tease him in Industrial Arts and in the hall during lunch.

Mrs. Jacqueline Scott--Her English classes are filled with discussions which help the students express their ideas. She is also an active sponsor of the Tri-Hi-Y.

Mr. Lawson Andrews--Our boys find his Phys. Ed. classes keep them on the move. His encouragement and drive makes him one of the best football coaches anywhere.

Mrs. Estelle Tyler--Her classes help to give one a strong foundation for any field having to do with mathematics.

Mrs. Gail Bosiger--If you enjoy performing experiments and balancing equations you belong in one of her interesting science or math classes.

Mrs. Lois Pendergrass--Students find that her classes in typing keep them busy, but also makes them feel that typing is exciting and fun.

Miss Jennie Johnston--Miss Johnston not only has to work during the school period but also through the evenings and nights. Home Economics isn't a one night job.

Mrs. Carolyn Farley--Mrs. Farley, one of our new members of the faculty seems to enjoy teaching our students social studies.

Teachers Put Textbooks To Best Use!

Mr. A. B. Culbertson--The Vocational Agriculture students enjoy Mr. Culbertson and Mr. Angel in their work in class and their work in F.F.A.

Mr. Rutledge Moon--Although things get rough in Phys. Ed., our boys seem to get along with Mr. Moon as a Phys. Ed. teacher and coach of our baseball team.

Mrs. Jeanette Moon--Mrs. Moon is also a Phys. Ed. teacher and puts hard hours into her work before and after school. Mrs. Moon is also our Monogram sponsor.

We'll Scatter Cheer Down Through The Unknown Silent Years . . .

The Senior year is the final step in high school life. It is in this year that each individual decides and prepares for his future life; and the one hundred twenty members of the Class of '69 are well aware of this.

For college bound Seniors, college boards have to be taken in December or May. Also for these students the achievement tests are given in January. For those who plan to work upon graduation the GATB tests are taken in November. The Air Force tests are taken by all Seniors in December.

To help round out the lives of the Seniors extracurricular activities play a large part.

Eleven Senior boys have contributed much in making the 1968 football season one of the best ever. Giving honor to the Hawks are Jay Hall, Reuben Allen, Steve Buchanan, and Mike Weeks who have made the all-district football team. Helping to cheer the Hawks on to victory are five, very active, Senior girls.

Although both the boys and girls basketball teams only have three Senior members, everyone is well aware of these valuable players. To give support to these teams are three Senior girls who have made the cheering squad.

To prove that the Seniors are ready for the future ahead of them much responsibility is placed upon them. Most of the clubs and activities of G.H.S. are lead by the Seniors. This leadership leaves the future Senior classes with a sound foundation from which Gretna will ever excel.

Junior Boys And Girls Become Engaged In Sports

The Junior class of 68-69 school session had an enrollment of

The big project for the class was giving the Junior-Senior Prom. Much time and effort went into this event. Each member of the class served on certain committees.

Testing programs at certain times throughout the year also challenged the students. The first testing program was the PSAT tests. These tests gave a view of how students scored in verbal and mathematical skills. All Juniors took the Step-SCAT test giving an idea of the I.Q. of each student. Both testing programs were under the supervision of Mrs. Hayes and Mrs. Coleman. In May some students took their college board exams in preparation for college.

Several of Gretna's Juniors were outstanding in football. Equally important are Mike Felts, Mike Tucker, Fred Midkiff, Jeff Pickeral, and Roger Rhinehart.

Not only were the Junior boys outstanding in our athletic activities but also the girls. This year we had six girls from the Junior class on the cheerleading squad and five on the basketball squad. Those Juniors were: Carol Aylor, Rose Hutcherson, Debbie Elliott, Pat Saurborn, Sherril Moon, Louise McCormick, Dianne Cothran, and Brenda Woodson.

Sophomores

Gretna's class of '71 enthusiastically returned to school to face new teachers and experiences.

They began by electing a very capable slate of officers: Samuel Johnson, president; Jimmy Hunt, vice-president; Ellen Rowland, secretary-treasurer; and Nelson Mayhew, reporter.

As in the past two years, the Sophomores continue to show their rare qualities of intelligence, school spirit and support, and willingness to help whenever possible. Sponsored by Mrs. Pendergrass, Mrs.

Tyler, Mrs. Harris, Mr. Craddock, Mrs. Mann, and Mrs. Farley, the class has supported the P.T.A., has helped the drive for new band uniforms, and has helped their school in many other ways.

This year, as in the past two years, the Sophomores are taking special interests in the school's clubs, many of them holding high offices in these clubs, and in athletic events. Many tenth grade boys were on the Varsity football team this year. These boys, as well as the Junior and Senior boys, put out a lot of time, hard work, and sweat to help make our team what it was this year.

Freshmen Are Engaged In Our Sports

Consisting of 203 lively members this year's Freshman class is sponsored by Mrs. Angel, Mrs. Coleman, Mr. Johnson, Mrs. Bosiger, Mrs. Mann, and Mr. Andrews.

Having become acquainted with Gretna High School during the Eighth Grade, the Freshman class begins to contribute much to the life at Gretna.

Upon reaching Freshman status, these students have benefited from their year of growth at Gretna and are now given the opportunity to participate in all clubs. The boys also have the opportunity to participate in J. V. basketball and football.

The girls have the chance to go out for Varsity football cheerleading. After football season is over, they then have a chance to either make the basketball team or to cheer the teams on to victory. This year Angie Ingram made basketball cheerleading. While Angie cheers, Brenda Bailess and Dianne Shelton plays basketball for our Gretna Hens.

This year our J. V. Basketball team has been successful because they received the teamwork of Kenny Gaddy, Danny Dillard, Kim Felts, Donny Johnson, and Glenn Yeatts.

Eighth Graders

The Eighth Grade class of '68 is the largest eighth grade ever. They came from four elementary schools to Gretna High School to become one body of students, all growing together.

During their first year at Gretna, the Eighth Graders were introduced to the changing of classes with different teachers. Learning to live up to certain rules and regulations, such as not running down the halls, became difficult for them at times. Becoming acquainted with new faces, they developed friendships to last for many years to come.

Having the opportunity to join the FHA, FFA, Pep Club, Junior Library Club and play eighth grade basketball, they got their taste of activities in high school. By their enthusiasm in the Library Club this year, a special Junior Library Club is created for the Eighth Graders.

The sponsors, Mrs. Jefferson, Mrs. Epperson, Mrs. Moon, Mrs. Motley, Mr. Locust, Mr. Craddock, and Mr. Yeatts help the class of '73 to gain their foothold in Gretna High School.

Eighth Graders Enjoy High School Life.

Dennis Almond, Darell Rorer, Freddy Hall, Skippy Mattox, Robbie East, Glenn Hutcherson, and Jim Moon seem to wander around and stare at the new and different things during Orientation Day.

CURRICULUM

We'll Rally Round Her Standards . . .

Mr. McKeever enjoys teaching from his nice comfortable desk.

In studying the natural sciences, we hope to develop the student's attitudes in order that they will be able to participate intelligently in life in our scientific age.

Mrs. Mann and Mrs. Hedrick teach Basic Earth and Basic Life sciences. In Basic Life students study animals, plants, and the life of the earth. The Basic Earth book deals with the study of astronomy, meteorology, and geology.

Modern Science classes, taught by Mrs. Hines and Mrs. Hedrick, study outer space, the atmosphere, living things, and the earth. They also see films which accompany their study.

In the Physical World, Mrs. Bosiger teaches the parts of the atom, simple machines, and how to balance equations.

In Mrs. Harris's Modern Biology, and Mrs. Mann's Biology for You, students carry out numerous experiments, including dissection. They also learn the parts of the cell and atom, and all the life processes.

Lynn Adams, Kenneth Nichols, Robert Midkiff, Carroll Shelton, Kenneth Mayhew, and Richard Cocke find their slide-rules very useful.

Mrs. Bosiger listens intently to all of her students questions.

In the Chemistry Department, Mr. McKeever hopes to teach his students to learn to think. This is done by explaining, thinking out, and demonstrations that will enable the class to better understand the whys and wherefores of Chemistry.

Physics, also taught by Mr. McKeever, strives to teach the mathematical concepts of forces acting upon bodies at rest and in motion, as well as the classical and modern aspects of Physics.

In our Chemistry classes we do not perform experiments only but also learn the chemical and physical properties, compositions, reactions, and uses of a substance.

Physics is originally a natural science. This science is dealing with the properties, changes, and interactions of matter and energy. Physics is subdivided into mechanics, thermodynamics, optics, and acoustics.

In Building A Better World . . .

No wonder everyone is saying Lynn Adam's brains are spreading! This is what happens in Physics when Mr. McKeever leaves the room.

In Modern Biology both boys and girls seem to be amused by doing experiments by using food and articles from home.

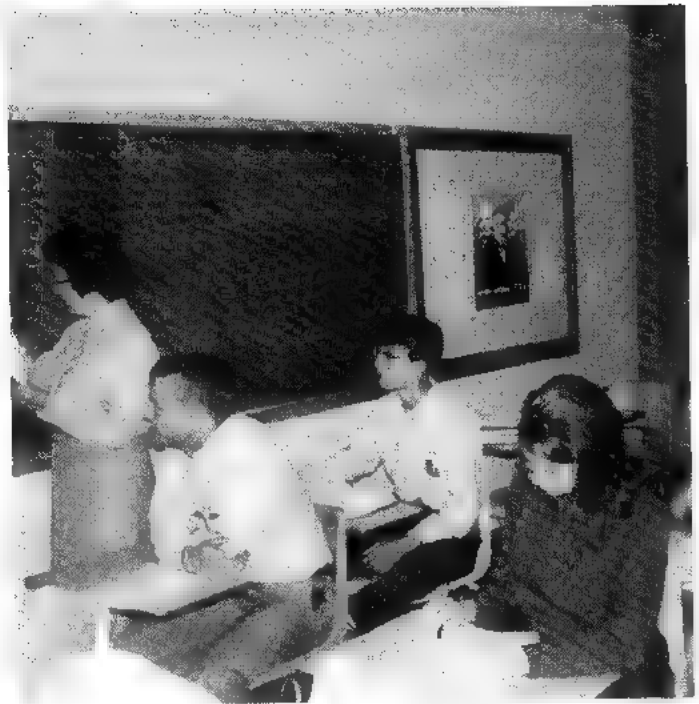

Even though boys act as though they're not afraid of worms while fishing, well suppose they ran up on this gigantic worm.

Mrs. Hedrick points out to her students that our heart isn't the shape of a heart on a Valentine card.

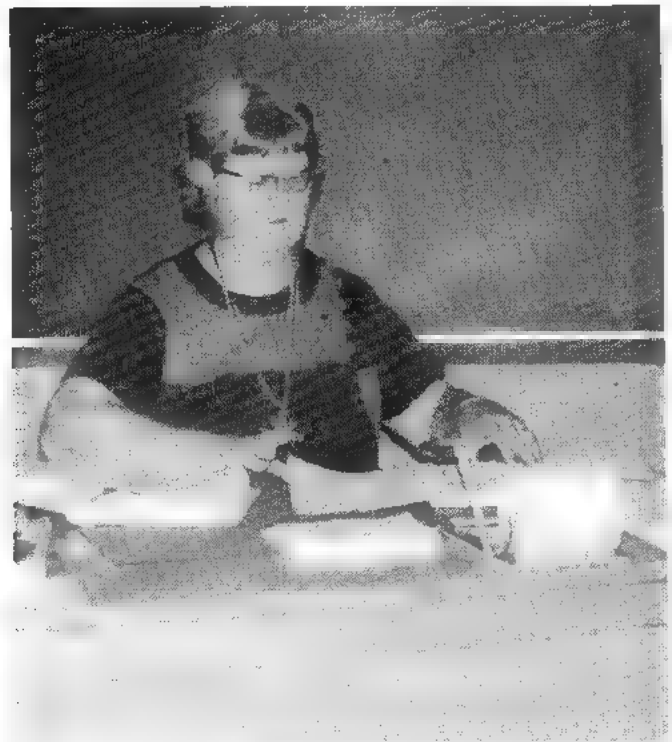

Mrs. Berger gives informative talks on Canterbury Tales.

Rueben Allen, Junetta Edwards, and Lynn Adams looks very industrious taking notes.

Mrs. Anderson looks on as Blair Owen gives a book report.

Mrs. Angel passes on her experiences of many years to her students.

Kenny Moran and Faye Colbert look on as Mrs. Del Campo lectures to her class.

Mrs. Scott gives individual help to her students.

In The Forceful Written Word . . .

The English Department of Gretna High School offers a varied study of grammar and literature to its students.

Through the study of Linguistics in the eighth grade, we are attempting to get away from the old cut-and-dry rules in English.

In the freshman year the students learn the basic parts of a sentence, and study literature for adventure.

In the sophomore year the students study composition and literature with only a basic review of grammar.

In the junior year the students study their own ancestral background and then tie it in with our colonial history.

In the senior year the students study Canterbury Tales.

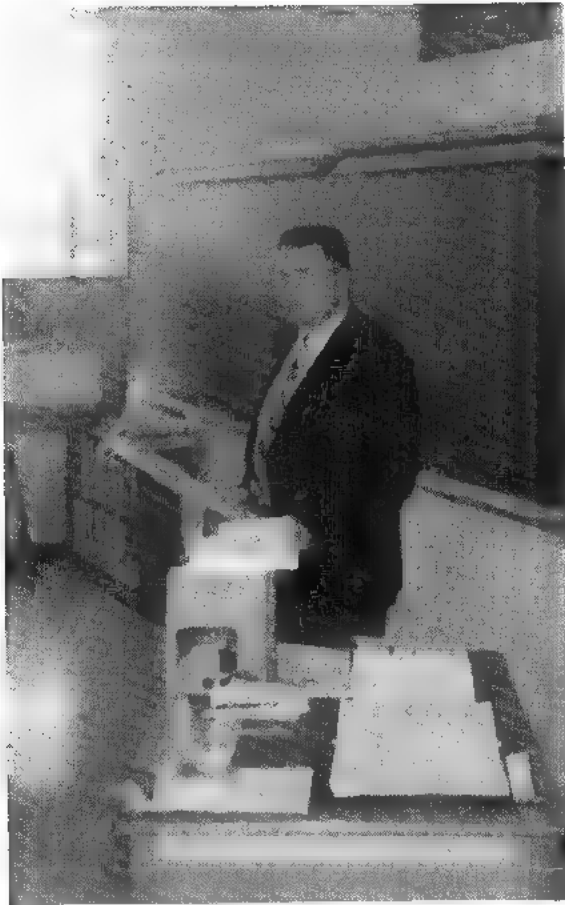

We believe that the English Department in our school should be so planned and carried out as to provide for the individual needs of all students, whether they be college bound or terminal.

In Our American Life . . .

The Social Studies Department provides courses in United States Government and Virginia Government, United States and Virginia History, Economics, Sociology, World History and World Geography.

In offering the varied curriculum each member of the Social Studies Staff strives to develop, in every student, a keen appreciation for the Social Sciences, to help him adjust to his environment, to be a part of the world order, to keep abreast of current happenings, to understand his cultural heritage, to demonstrate leadership ability, and to recognize his role as a citizen.

The six full-time and part-time staff members develop their subjects by using and combining the following methods and techniques: lectures, discussions, debates, demonstrations, research, team-teaching and visual aids such as televisions, recordings, slides, motion pictures, charts, transparencies, and maps.

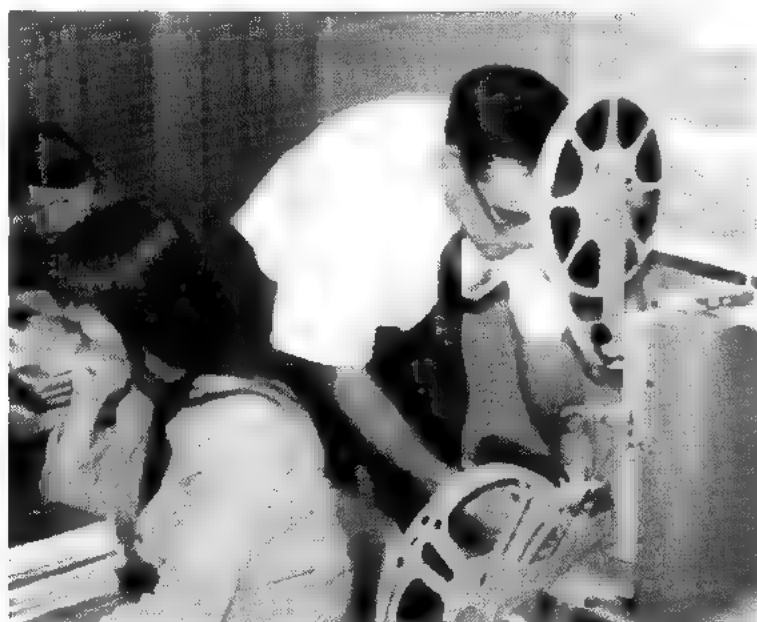

Mr. Terry tries very hard to stress his point of view.

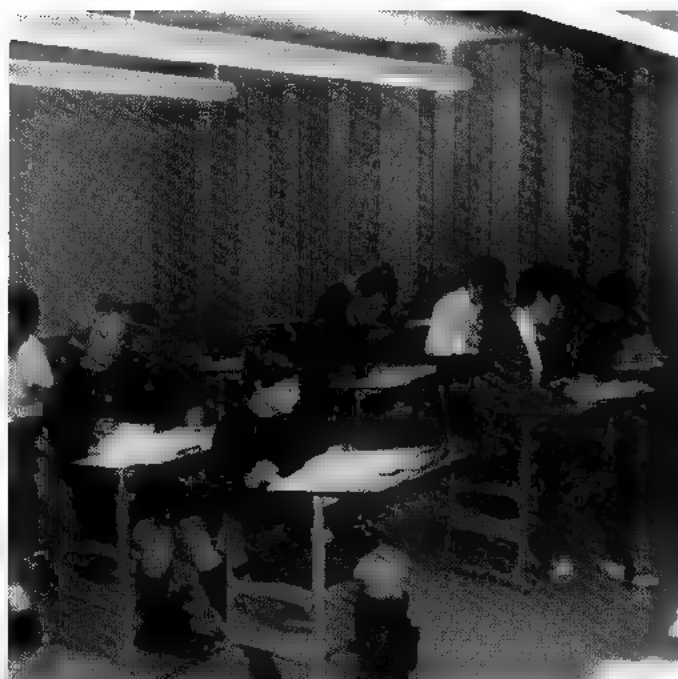

You can tell Mr. Craddock enjoys teaching his World Geography class!

Mrs. Farley, why isn't Gretna on the map?

Mr. Jefferson finds that films are very instructive when you read the directions.

Dianne Shelton, Vicky Cundiff, Barry Franks, and Jo-Anne Johnson are hard at work when their teacher leaves the room.

In The Beauty Of God's Earth . . .

In our art classes the students show their skills in creating images of real life in their paintings. To make things that have form and beauty they put in many hours of hard work.

Also they do their best in trying to craft in lines and shapes from blocks of wood, clay, and rock.

With the help of many still-life items, they can detect shadows and highlights in the pastels done during the first and second six-weeks periods.

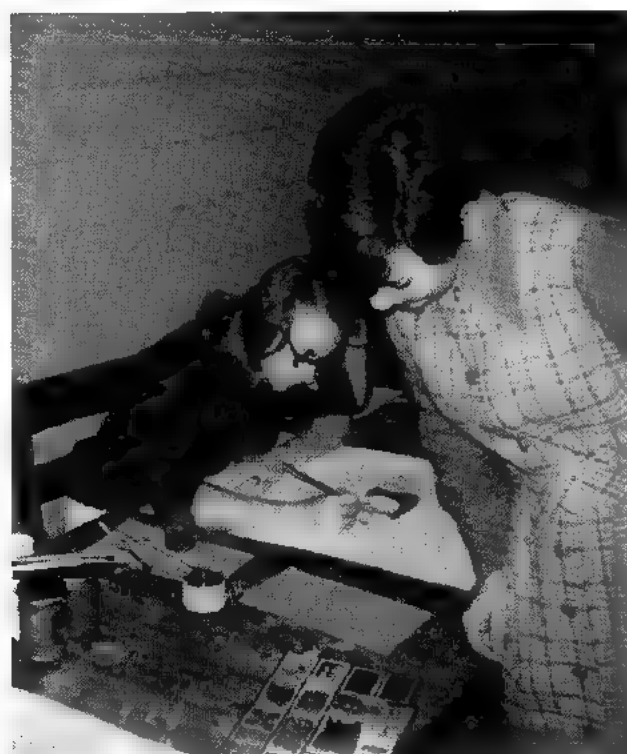

Many students realize that art is not only a past time but also a cultural value which should be highly regarded in years to come.

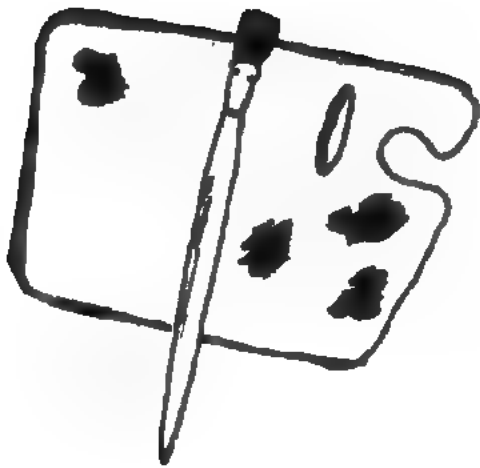

Ricky Shelton's natural talent makes the many hours he works in his painting very enjoyable.

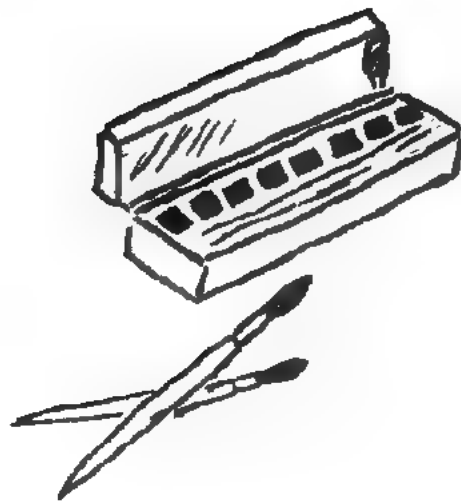

Miss Grant gives helpful suggestions which aid in the construction of beautiful works of art.

Miss Grant looks on as Judy Moon works industriously at her painting.

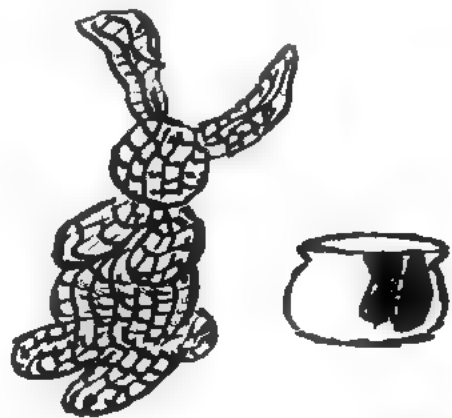

Oil Painting at Gretna High has always been one of the favorite activities. Our students learn the technique of painting with acrylics before attempting the use of oils.

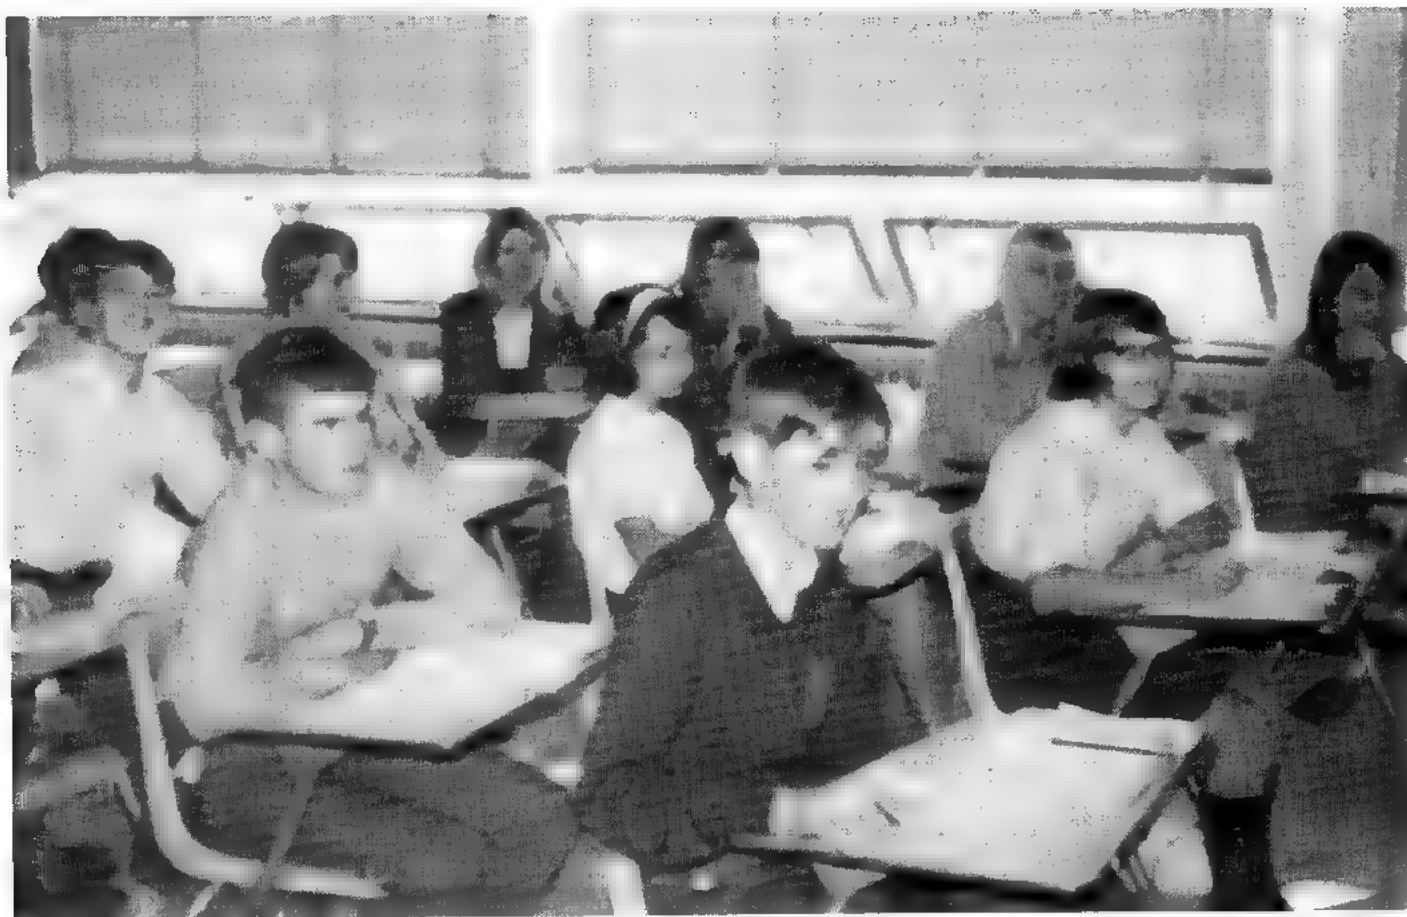

Watercoloring makes up a general part of the first semester of Art I. Still-lives are painted and displayed in the window showcase when finished.

There are two kinds of clay used in the Sculptor section of Art I, II, and III. One of which never hardens "plastocene" and the other is hardening clay. Plasticene is used in the making of molds, and the clay is used in making pottery of all kinds.

Papier-Mache animals are the major attraction of our art department. The skeleton is first made and then covered with layers of paper strips dipped in wheat paste. After dried, they are varnished and painted the desired colors.

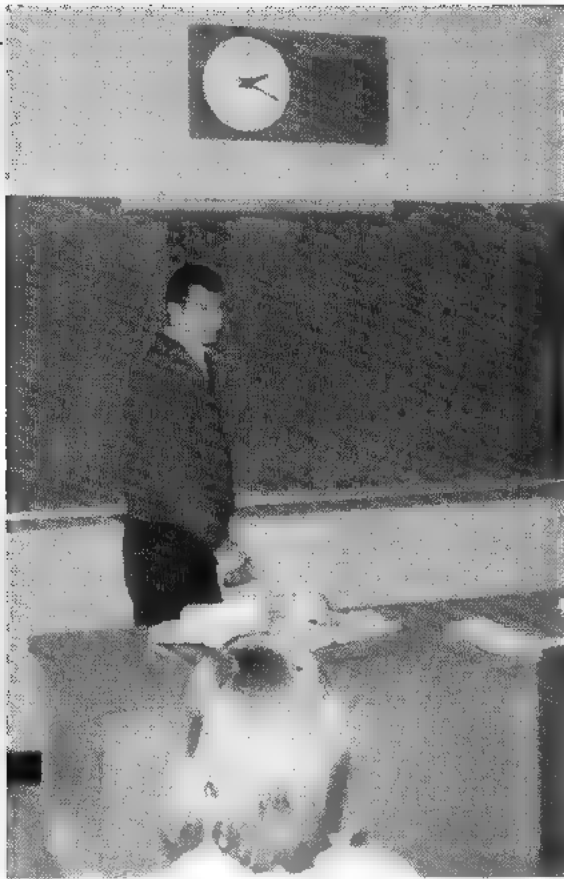

Algebra I seems amusing to these mathematicians.

In Appreciation Of The Masters . . .

Mathematics is the practical tool which has played and will continue to play a major part in man's understanding and mastery of his environment. The Gretna High School Math Department endeavors to teach each student the mathematics necessary to develop into a competent citizen in his home, community, and world. In math, students are encouraged to think and to develop creative ability. Each math course provides an opportunity for developing fundamental skills and understanding the basic operations of mathematics. Courses in mathematics at Gretna High School are offered on two levels, academic and general. For those who are trying to meet only requirements for graduation, there are classes in General Math 8 and General Math 9. Those who pursue the academic course are offered General Math 8, Algebra I, Algebra II, Plane Geometry, Algebra III, and Solid Geometry and Trigonometry.

In all math courses an effort is made to relate math to other subjects as well as life situations. All students are taught an understanding of basic mathematical processes and relationships.

Why so serious, Mr. Johnson?

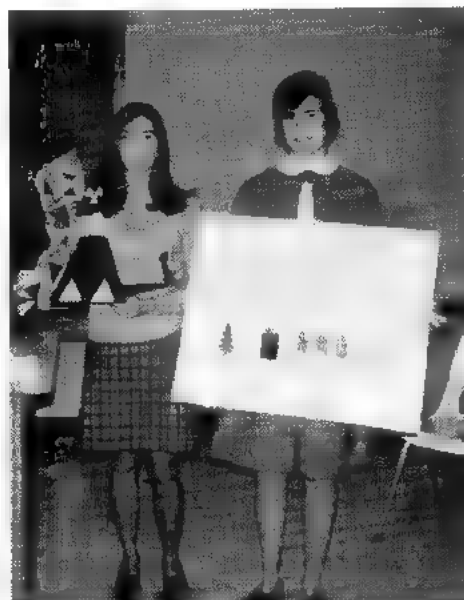

Just ask Wayne or Carter.

Mrs. Tyler gives individual help when needed.

Teaching geometry has its ups and downs.

Geometry can be fun.

In The Knowledge

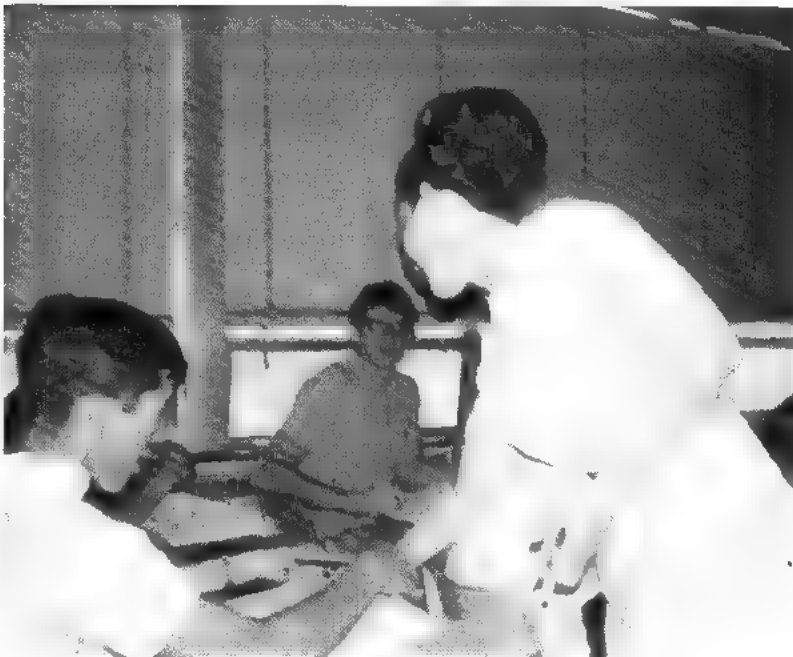

Miss Grant takes time out to collect her thoughts before she begins again.

The objectives of our Spanish classes are that our students achieve the ability to speak, write, read, and most important to understand this language.

With the help of our audio language laboratory our Spanish students are more influenced by this language. In our laboratory the students can hear the words spoken in Spanish and can repeat them. Also with the help of the new books last year there are more and more ways of learning the importance and quality of language.

Miss Grant has been the teacher of Spanish for the last three years.

Fred Midkiff and Jay Hall have no difficulty in understanding Spanish with the help of Miss Grant.

Of Other Peoples . . .

Our Latin Department is to promote the study and continued interest in the Classical languages. This year Latin III has been added to the curriculum of Gretna High and thus enabling its students to have a greater acquaintance with the language of Latin. The size of our Latin classes has increased with the addition of this extra year. It broadens their outlook of their surroundings.

Our students believe that a knowledge of Latin helps them to become more a part of the living culture of the Western World. It also preserves for them the wisdom of their pasts and a counsel to their present.

This year our Latin department has the help of using tapes, slides, and records to vary our classwork and in making the study more interesting.

Mrs. Angel explains Caesar to Pat Saurborn and Ellen Rowland.

Linda Layne is being helped with her Latin by Mrs. Angel as everyone looks at their test grades.

Mrs. Franks takes it easy while her students take over the class.

C. J. Brown, "speed demo"

In Meeting

Students of the business courses at Gretna High School are prepared to meet the business world, business school, or jobs after graduation.

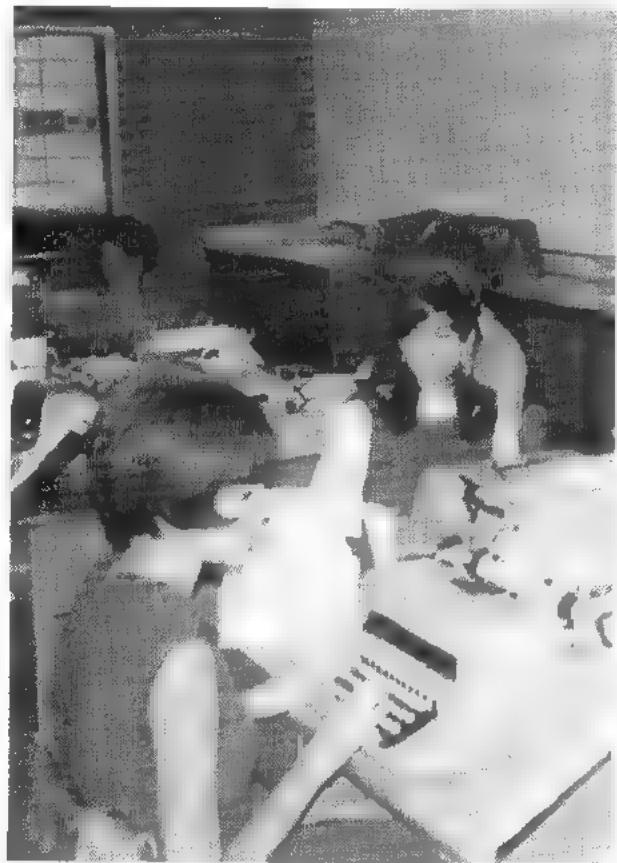

Typing I is taught by Mrs. Franks. This is the first year of vocational typing, in which the students acquire the fundamentals of typing and begin to use these skills in office-oriented tasks. Shorthand, which is a system of high-speed notetaking, and office practice, which stresses basic office functions, are also taught by Mrs. Franks.

Personal typing, taught by Mrs. Pendergrass, is a one-year course in which students learn to type and to apply this skill to their own personal needs. Mrs. Pendergrass also teaches Typing I.

Mr. Wilkerson, who teaches his students about the world of business and some of its characteristics, also teaches bookkeeping and recordkeeping. These courses are designed to instruct the students in the process of keeping accurate records and books for businesses.

Personal Typing, labors industriously.

Ruby and Ann enjoy typing.

The World . . .

Watch those fingers, ladies; that blade on the paper cutter looks mighty sharp!

Eighth grade boys fail to block the shot as the ball goes in for two points.

Belvia Holt, Deborah Lovelace, Susan East, and Susan Trent find speedball requires lots of running and kicking.

With A Smile . . .

The physical education for girls and boys, as part of the educational curriculum, has more significance today and for the future than ever before. Realizing that good health, total fitness, and personal safety are necessary attributes toward a happy and successful life, the health department has developed a three year program. This includes personal growth and development, safety and first aid, driver's education and mental and emotional health. Instruction in health education is offered two days each week. The physical education program starts each year with the state-wide physical fitness test. This is a test for endurance, ability, flexibility, and all-over co-ordination. At the end of the year this same test is given again to determine the improvement made through the year.

The sports first played are speedball for girls and soccer and touch football for the boys. The indoor sports consists of volleyball and basketball.

The eighth grade girls are taught modern dance which helps in gymnastics. This and many other individual sports such as bowling, horseshoes, and trampoline jumping are enjoyed by all classes.

Tennis is expected to be played this year since the addition of outdoor tennis courts has been made.

Classes are again brought outdoors where the girls and boys play softball and participate in various track events.

This ends the physical education year with our students more physically fit than ever before.

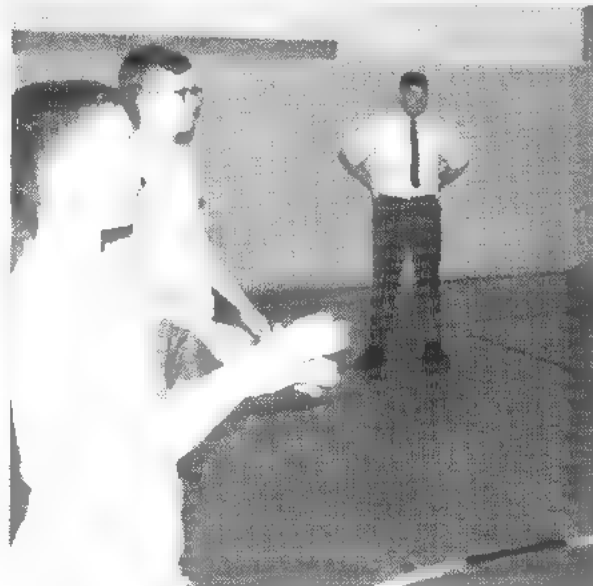

Jerry Bond, John Aylor, and Ricky Burnette seem hard at work, don't they?

Mr. Andrews observes the technique of Jim Moon and Marvin Bryant as they practice their basketball skills.

Girls fight over the ball while Belvia stands ready to defend her goal from the opponents.

Sandy Barbour, Judy Sanders, Shelby Shelton, Dale Dillard and Mrs. Motley all wonder what happened to the ball.

The Home Economic students worked very hard to complete their Christmas decorations.

In Love And Praise Of God . . .

Homemaking education in Gretna High School is concerned with the application of knowledge to the job of homemaking and family living with the growth of individuals as contributing members of families. It is education in Homemaking (which includes more than just cooking and sewing) in the present, as well as preparation for homemaking in the future. We teach basic beliefs that the family of today sets the standards for tomorrows families.

As society changes we see a greater need for families to have training to help them meet the problems that will effect their health, happiness, and economic well-being.

Improvements in family living are the results of individual knowledge and application of facts to every day living problems. To meet the needs of the students as contributing members of families, Home Economics I, II, III, IV, and Special are offered in sequence to help them develop logical progression.

Brenda Simpson is crowned Miss Ideal FHA.

Mrs. Lowe finds time to do other work besides that dealing with homemaking.

Linda Ayres finds that the process of sewing is easier said than done.

Joyce Myers, Nancy Mayhew, and Mary Ellen Keesee give their reports on buying clothing while Mrs. Lowe looks on.

Miss Johnston believes candy is the answer to bring Glenn Hutcherson and her closer together.

Dana DeLappe makes a speech to the audience at the F. H. A. Awards Night.

Miss Johnston takes time after school to look over her students' daily grades.

What is so interesting, boys?

A new teacher?

Mr. Angel lectures to his Agriculture class.

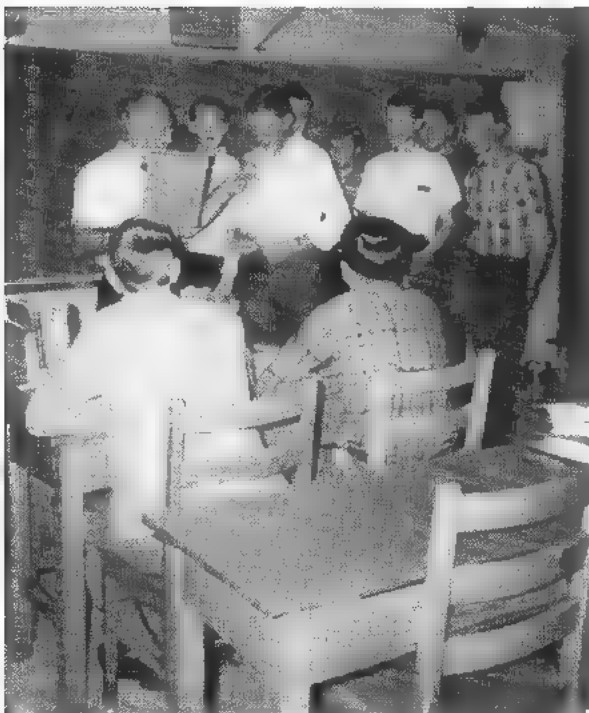

Mr. Culbertson is happy to explain any difficult problem.

In Learning About Nature . . .

Agriculture students study welding, tractor driving, the repairing of farm machinery, and judging timber. In agriculture boys learn by experience. They are required to keep record books, complete farm projects, and demonstrate these projects. Students participate in contests among themselves and with other schools. Many exhibits win prizes in the county fair.

The agriculture teachers, Mr. Angel, Mr. Burnette, and Mr. Culbertson, teach the boys to become better farmers.

These boys discover that with the help of a tape recorder many things become easier to understand.

Mr. Burnette takes time out to pose for the photographer.

In The Building Of New Things . . .

One has to listen carefully and take lots of notes.

Industrial Arts at Gretna High, under the leadership of Mr. Locust, provides planning construction and production activities which enable students to acquire industrial-technical skills. These activities offer opportunities to develop tool and machine skills commensurate with the mental and physical maturity of the student.

The objectives of the Industrial Arts are to help the students develop an understanding of certain basic elements of industry and their influence on our culture, to develop problem-solving abilities related to the materials processes, and products of industry, to develop in each student skill in the use of tools and machines, to discover and develop students talents, and interests in the industrial-technical field.

This year the Industrial Arts department has a new floor model belt and disc sander that will cut sanding time into half. The students of woodwork has to spend two-thirds of his construction time sanding the project being made so this new tool will enable the students to complete more than one project.

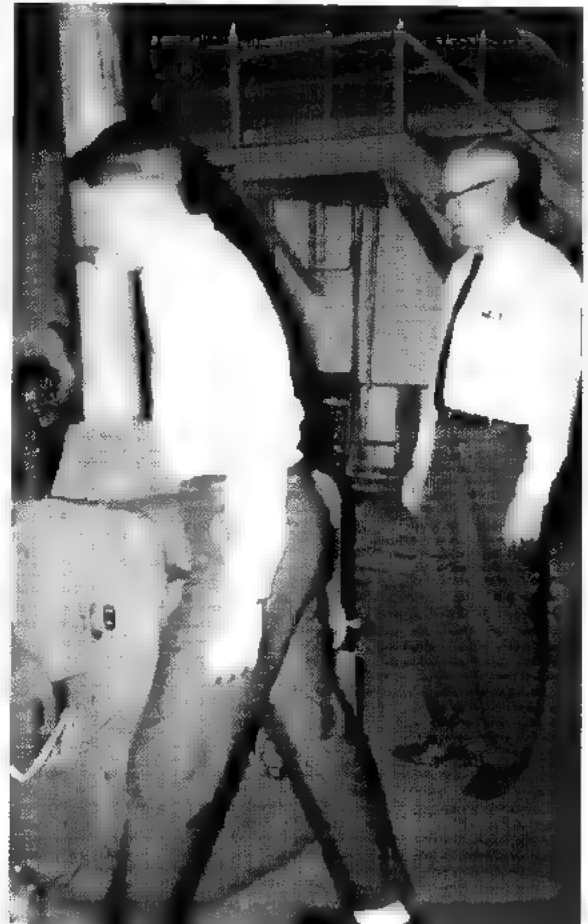

Brady Williamson doesn't find industrial arts too hard.

Working hard, Pick?

It takes time and patience in Industrial Arts. Right, boys!

Watch your step, Carter!

These boys seem to be busy!

Wonder what lesson these students are studying?

Distributive Education students seem attentive.

Distributive Education is a program designed to develop leadership in marketing and managing. D.E. students learn to be responsible for themselves and others.

D.E. prepares the student who does not plan to enter college and wants to enter into a field of distribution. In their second and third years of D.E., students work half a day and attend school half a day. This allows a person to work and get an education at the same time. Many members hold part-time jobs working in offices, department stores, service stations, and grocery stores.

The Gretna High School proudly presents the new uniforms of our band.

In The Art And Joy

This year marks one of the greatest for the Gretna High School Band. Not only does the band have the largest membership ever, but each of the eighty-four members is clad in a new uniform. The uniforms have two styles, one for concert performances and an added overlay for marching performances.

The band under the leadership of Mr. Calvin Swart and Mr. Al Collins participates in many activities, including band festivals, concerts, football games, parades, and pep rallies.

The band is especially proud of the majorettes, who have a regular corps of eight and three alternates. The head majorette is Mary Short and the assistant head majorettes are Debbie Barker and Sherby Myers. Mrs. Swart is the majorette sponsor.

Last year the band placed seven players in the Virginia District VI Regional All-State Band, and one player in the All Band.

Grover Mattox receives his uniform from Mr. Collins.

The Chorus also sings at assemblies during pep rallies.

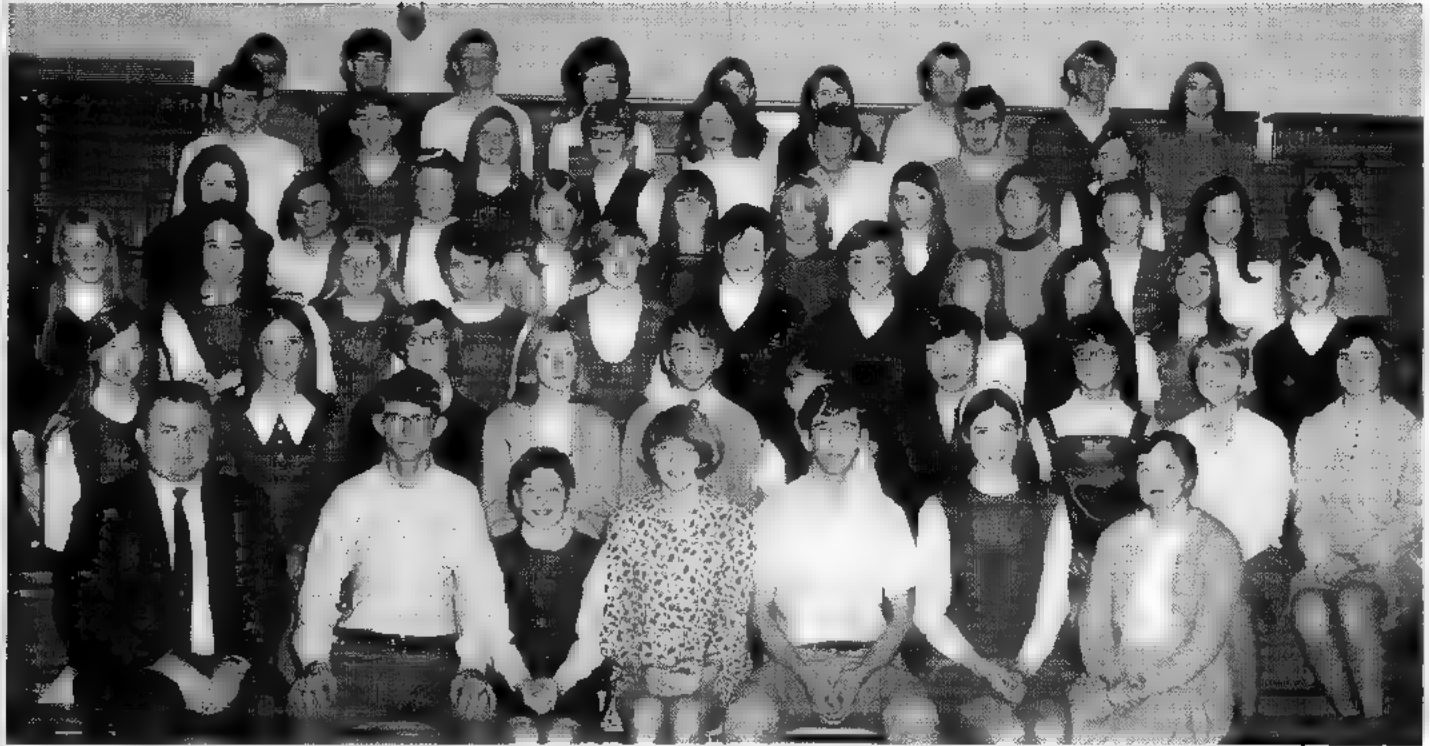

The Gretna High School Chorus has forty-one members under the leadership of Mr. Al Collins. There is only one section of Chorus this year. The Chorus participates in the Chorus Festival, concerts, school assemblies, and sings in the community churches throughout the year. Mr. Al Collins hopes to have many members selected for the All-State and All-County Choruses.

In most performances, the girls wear navy blue sweaters and white skirts, and the boys wear blue sweaters with dark pants.

The Student Cooperative Association is the student government at Gretna High School.

The Association emphasizes the idea that all students hold membership in the club.

This is an organization that carries out activities for the betterment of our school. The SCA promotes patriotism, good citizenship, tries to be of service to the school, develops faculty student relationships and promotes good sportsmanship.

All clubs, before coming into existence at Gretna, must be chartered by the SCA. The club, this year, is made up of eleven committees on which each homeroom representative is represented. This year the SCA appeared on Saturday Session on Feb. 8, 1969. Amy Johnson, (president of the SCA) was master of ceremonies.

For a Christmas project the SCA sent Christmas cards to the boys in Viet Nam, supplying names and addresses by the SCA.

With Honor . . .

The Gretna Beta Club is an honor club in our Gretna High School. This club is opened to those students who maintain a 3.2 average after their sophomore year.

The club carried out its annual project of preparing "White Christmas" for needy families. Foods, toys, and clothing were collected a few days before school let out for Christmas.

THE BETA CLUB JOURNAL, the official organ of the National Honorary Beta Club is received monthly during the school year, providing means of contact between the national organization and the clubs of the high schools furnishing a medium of expression for individual club members and individual clubs.

In Research . . .

The Science Club (Luceina Association) was formed so that students sharing a common interest in science would have an opportunity to learn and work together.

Any student, who shows an interest in developing skills in science by planning and carrying out a project, may become a member of the Science Club.

One of the main interest of the year is the annual Science Fair, which presents the projects that the members built. Each member is required to prepare a project to be displayed at the fair. This year the club has tried to encourage more interest and participation in the fair.

The main project for the year is to build a dark room for developing films. This benefits not only the science department but the annual staff and the school newspaper as well.

Throughout The Press . . .

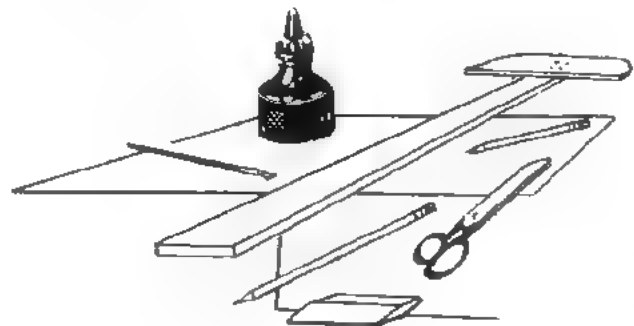

As soon as one edition of the Junction is completed work is begun on another one. During the summer the members of the staff, under the supervision of Debbie DeLappe and Cathy Shields, co-editors, sold advertisements in the neighboring stores of Chatham, Danville, Brookneal, Lynchburg, Altavista, and Gretna.

By the beginning of school, with an idea of the financial status, work on publishing the Junction began. Meeting with Mr. Hutcheson, American Yearbook representative, the staff chose the cover and learned some of the basics of good yearbook production. Also Mr. Yeatts, a new sponsor, helped the sections in writing effective copy, as Mr. Wilkerson continued to help with the business.

The inexperienced staff soon learned the techniques of cropping pictures, writing good copy that seems real and easy to understand, and taking good pictures of the action of our school. Meeting the first deadline in November became their first goal. Even though things did not work out as well as expected at first, the yearbook became well underway. Three other deadlines had to be met also, resulting in the staff laboring during study halls, after school, and on weekends, and holidays.

A shortage of pictures proved to be a problem for the staff, as four cameras had to be repaired. They soon overcame this problem and others, learning to work together and that work pays off.

In Our Local News . . .

The purpose of the Parrott Staff is to organize a school paper. It informs the students, parents, and the general public about our school activities.

The Parrott contains articles about school events including: sports events, feature stories, award winners, and poems, all done by the students of our school. All students interested in writing are invited to join the staff and contribute to its support.

Each six-weeks the Parrot publishes four hundred copies to sell to the students at Gretna High School. The Parrot has much to contribute; it provides a practical experience in journalism and stresses cooperation between its members.

These Parrot staff members work very hard to complete the paper each month.

The Future Homemakers of America is a very active club at Gretna High School. The sponsors, Mrs. H. Lowe and Miss J. Johnston, stress the motto of the club, "Toward New Horizons". They also emphasize the purpose which is to make better homes for their families in the future and to do more for the benefit of the community.

The club has a membership of sixty-five girls and is the second largest club in the school. Any girl previously or presently enrolled in home economics may become a member.

The only money making project of the club, besides dues, is the magazine campaign held every year. The money is used to support the many activities of the organization. Some of these activities are a Mother

Daughter Banquet, Awards Night, and a special Christmas party.

Many exhibits were entered in the county fair this year, such as needlework, handicrafts, and canned goods. More ribbons were awarded to our F.H.A. than in previous years.

The Girls Monogram Club is an organization which purpose is to honor girls who have earned school letters in cheerleading and basketball.

New members are initiated after basketball season every year. These prospective members have to come to school one day dressed as certain characters from comic strips and story books. They have to perform special duties for the present members of the club, such as kissing people's feet, singing in the lunch room, and carrying books for some other student in the school. A talent show is held at the end of the day. The winner is awarded with an egg but not the type to eat. Usually the egg is broken over their head.

The main purpose of the club is to develop a true spirit of sportsmanship and to provide for its members, a wholesome program of games, outings, and social activities.

Every year the Monogram Club sponsors homecoming and a track and field meet for the Pittsylvania County schools.

In Our Athletics . . .

The two main objectives of the Varsity Club are to give recognition to boys lettering in one of the sports at Gretna High School and to provide for good sportsmanship among the players. Other objectives are to promote school spirit and to promote student participation in sports also to promote leadership and to keep good scholastic grades among the members.

If a boy drops a sport while the sport is continued, the member of the club is dismissed from it.

Seven new members were admitted in the club this year. These boys had gained recognition for lettering in one of the four sports offered at Gretna High School during the previous year.

Our Latin Club holds a meeting once a month. To become a member one has to be taking or taken a Latin course. The eight members of this year's club have decided on two main money-making projects: a bake sale and a trip to the Curb Market in Danville to sell used clothing and goods.

The purpose of the club is to keep alive an interest in this classical language and to encourage other students to take Latin.

This club stresses all the indirect values of the subject that involve applying it to fields other than Latin.

The Gretna Tri-Hi-Y is an active club at Gretna High School. The members work to stress their main purpose: to create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character.

This year the club's enrollment increased 100% to include 8th grade students. The induction service held on Nov. 20th made each girl an official member.

The club projects include observing Tri-Hi-Y Week and Teacher's Week, having devotions for Thanksgiving over the intercom, and sending valentines to soldiers and children in the Faith Home.

The regular meetings conducted each month provide excellent programs, on patriotism, teen talk, and the Tri-Hi-Y constitution.

In The Knowledge

Members of the Library Club receive many beneficial opportunities through their library work. This club offers special training to those interested in learning to work in a library.

The purposes of the Library Club are: to assist the librarian in the work of the library, to help students find books and other materials, and to encourage and create interest in library work.

Everyone maintaining a C average may join the Library Club if he is willing to work one class period per week.

The members learn to be responsible for themselves and others. The members take three years of D.E. In their second and third years of D.E. they work half a day and attend school the other half. This allows a person to work and get an education at the same time.

Hawks Go Undefeated!

The Gretna Track team rolled over the county and district opponents on the way to their second straight undefeated season!

Their success was attributed to the well-balanced squad. The team retained their County trophy and won both winning trophies at the HMA Invitational Meet. School records were set in five events and both relays. Our mile relay team brought home third place medals from the State Track Meet along with Carlton Doss making fifth place in his event. The team can look forward to next year with fourteen returning lettermen.

It takes good timing and flexibility to be able to broad jump and Terry Pope has got both.

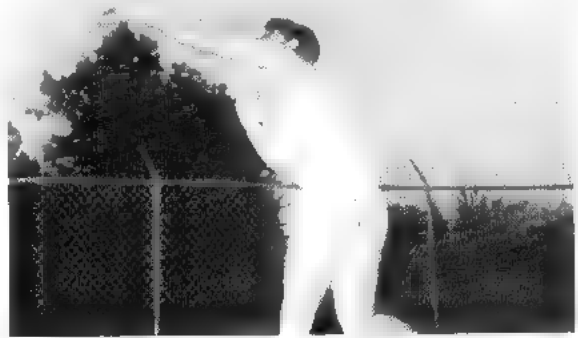

The high jump requires lots of balance and good timing.

Jokey clowns around as usual.

The Gretna Hawks posted a disappointing season winning four games while losing seven. The Hawks' lack of timely hitting proved to be their weakness. With All-District Winkle Bailey and Mr. Moon as their coach, the Hawks managed to win a few games. The highlight of the season was the defeat of Altavista. Coach Moon can look forward to the future baseball team for he has eight returning lettermen.

Hawks Defeat Colonels.

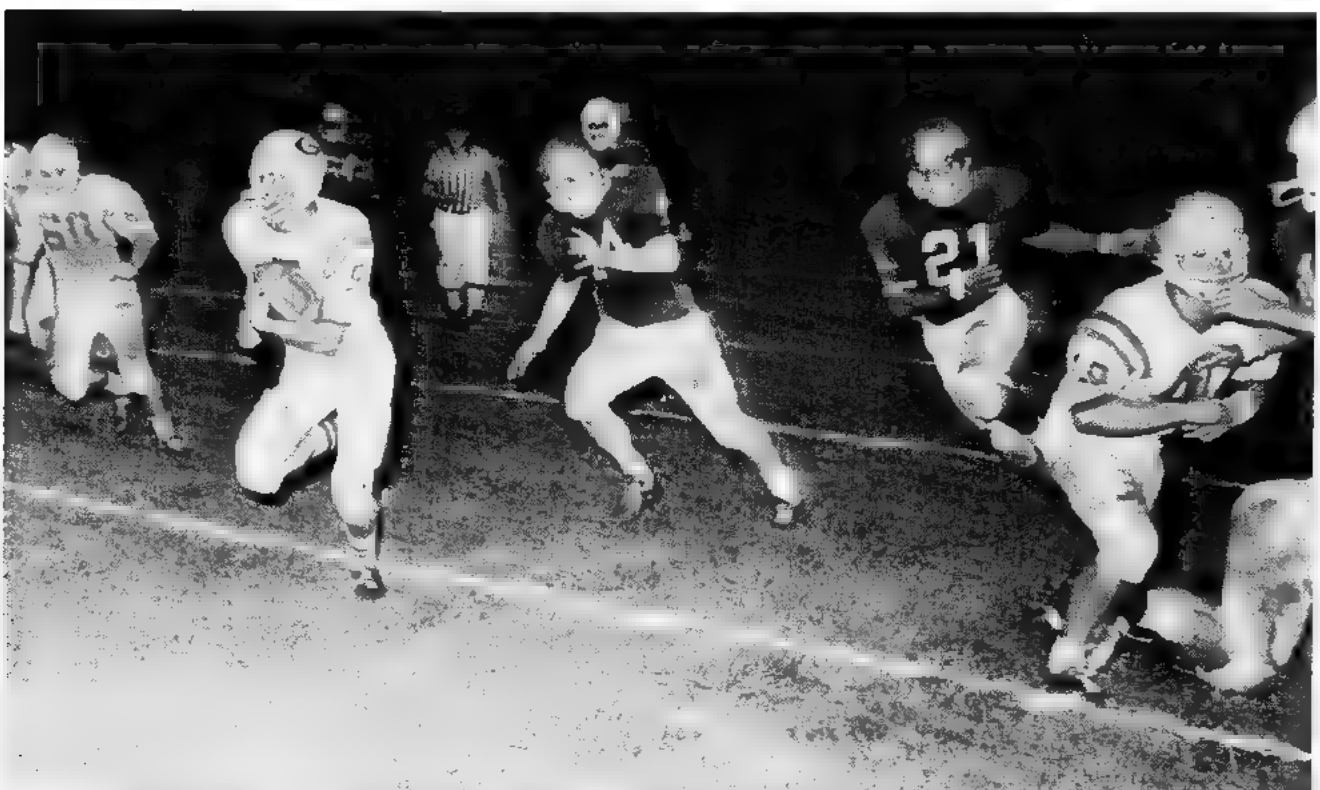

Gretna Hawks football led by Coach Andrews and Coach Craddock had its best season in history as it compiled an 8-2 record. The Hawks displayed a powerful offense which finished third in scoring in the district. To compliment this attack the team had a tough defense which finished second in points given up, holding eight opponents to one touch down or less.

The highlights of the season were a hard-fought 14-2 victory over Group I-B Brookville and, of course, the 27-7 victory over Altavista. This marked the second year in a row that the Hawks have defeated the Colonels.

Two players were honored by being named to the first-team All-District squad. They were halfback Reuben Allen, who finished second in the district scoring, and O. J. Hall, who made both offensive and defensive tackle.

The J.V. Team Has An Outstanding Season.

Team Sets New Point Record.

The Gretna Junior Varsity basketball team ended their season with a 9-3 record.

Led by a powerful offense the team averaged 56 points a game and broke the school record for the most points scored in one game; which was ninety-nine against Appomattox.

The tough defense led by strong rebounding helped the team to its success.

Mr. Jefferson taught the boys good sportsmanship and the value of fair play which is so necessary in the game.

Eighth Graders Learn Winning Ways.

The eighth grade team, coached by Mr. Andrews, did learn winning ways as they completed a 7-2 won-lost record.

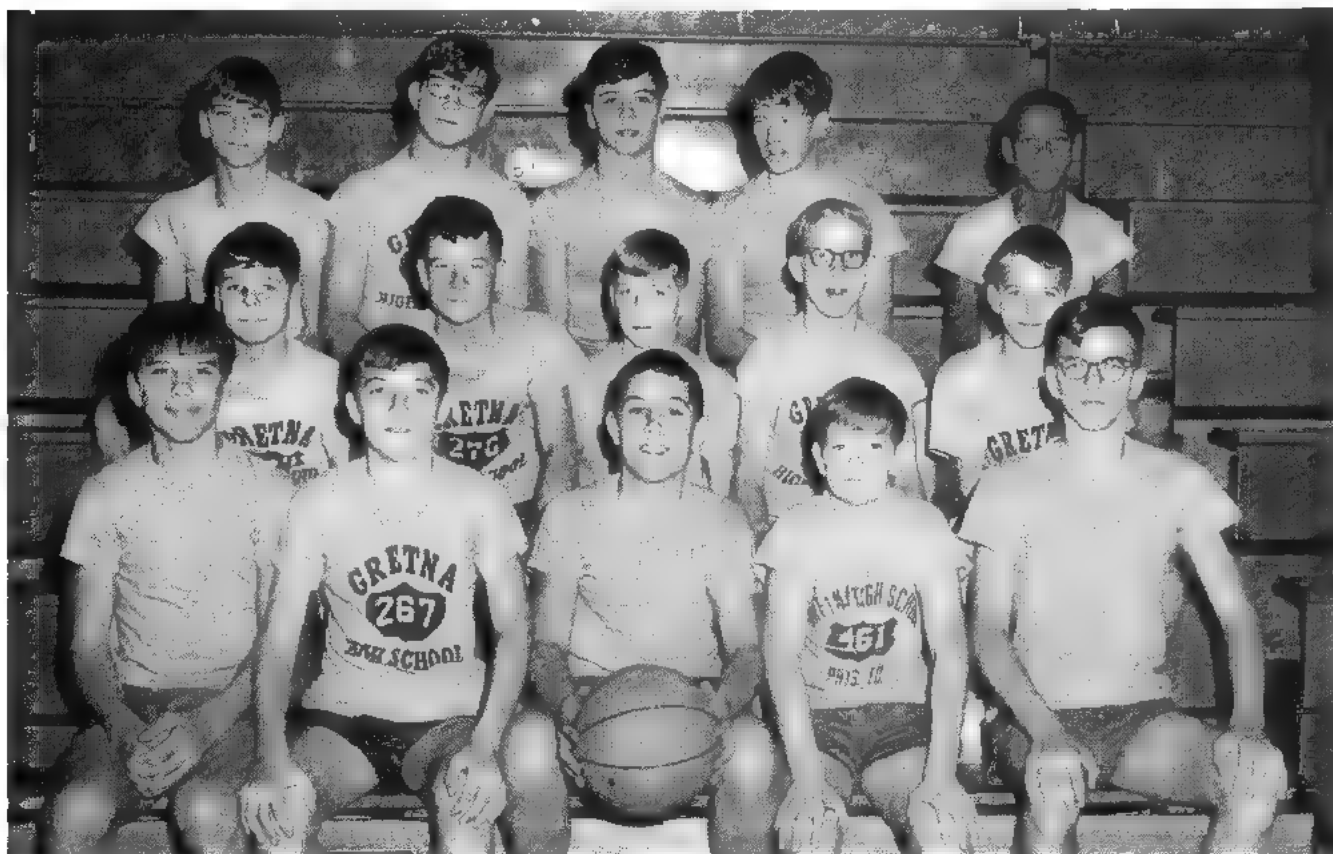

Although lacking height, the team centered around good ball handling and superb shooting.

The team was led by the shooting of Jim Moon and Jerry Bond, the rebounding of Ricky and Tony Burnette, and the defensive play of Scott Ingram.

However, the success must be credited to team play and good coaching. This year's team shows the material for a good varsity squad.

Hawks

Coach Byrd had a young team this year, consisting of three seniors, eight juniors, and one sophomore. The boys worked hard but it was the lack of experience which cost the boys many ball games. The team lost four ball games by seven points or less. This meant the difference between a winning and losing season.

The team is built around its three senior co-captains which are Joe Shelton, Derry Price, and O. J. Hall, along with Junior Aaron Short, turned in fine performances at the center, while Juniors Mike Felts and Bugin Jefferson plus sophomore Paul Gibson added to the Hawks rebounding and scoring strength. Joe and Derry took care of the ball handling in backcourt and provided good depth at these positions as they played outstanding ball.

With five lettermen returning next year and a fine J.V. team, the Hawks can look for a good season.

The Mighty Hens . . .

The Gretna Hens, under the coaching of Mrs. Gloria Motley, started the season out right by defeating Tunstall in spite of injury. The co-captains of this year are Susan Hamlett, Bee Johnson, and Sherril Moon. Sherril and Bee kept the ball moving and with the defense of Susan Hamlett and Linda West, they had no trouble with rebounding, stealing the ball from their opponents or bringing the ball down the court. Several members of the team were inexperienced but have gained confidence and skill throughout the season. After losing to Chatham in a very close game, with firm determination, they were able to conquer them the second time they met. Although they did not always win, they kept a fighting spirit and always kept good sportsmanship throughout the games. We are always proud to say, they are our Gretna Hens!

First Time For Spring Ball We Will Shine

The first Spring Ball ever to be presented at Gretna High School was held Saturday April 6, 1968 in the Gretna High cafeteria. The dance sponsored by the Pep Club began at eight o'clock P.M. and ended at twelve P.M.

The theme of our Spring Ball, "Love is Blue", was carried out in the color scheme of ice blue and mint green. Everyone enjoyed the music provided by the "Outriders" and danced without hesitation. The Pep Club members put forth a lot of effort in trying to get the scenery just the way they wanted it. We salute the Pep Club in a job well done!

Cinderella Is Honored At The Junior-Senior Prom—1968

One of the most exciting and anticipated events of the year is the JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM. This is one time during the year that the Junior Class honors the members of the Senior Class.

Last year's prom was held on Saturday, May 4. The theme, "CINDERELLA," was carried out with the color scheme of mint green and pale yellow. Life size figures, including Cinderella and her Prince Charming, added to the romantic atmosphere. The Prom was enjoyed by everyone and this year's will be anxiously awaited!

Amy Johnson Is Crowned Homecoming Queen

The annual Gretna homecoming game was held against Nelson County on October 11, 1968 at Gretna High School.

Two girls were chosen from each grade to represent their class. The football team chose four senior girls to run for the title of Homecoming queen. The whole student body then voted for the girl they felt would best fit the title.

Amy Johnson, who is also our S.C.A. President, was crowned Gretna High School's Homecoming Queen for 1968!

Representatives from the eighth grade were Kay Crewes and Sandra Tosh. From the ninth grade--Mary Lou Rowland and Cora Brooks; sophomore--Debbie Barker and Cathy Shields; juniors--Debbie Elliott and Patricia Wyatt.

After the game the Monogram Club sponsored the Homecoming dance. Following the court procession the queen and her court danced to the theme song, "The Impossible Dream".

Amy has just been named Homecoming Queen.

Mr. Wilkerson, with great pride and a GREAT big smile, shows us the 1968 Junction.

The 1968 Junction was presented to the faculty and student body the first week of June. The theme of the annual, Golden Harvest, was matched to the colors of the cover, brown and mustard yellow. The 1967-68 Junction Staff worked very hard to make the annual the best ever. The entire Junction Staff of 1968 appreciates your approval of the 1968 annual and we, the 1969 Junction Staff, do sincerely hope that this year's Junction will satisfy your need for the best.

The Presentation Of The 1967-68 "Junction" Is Awaited By All

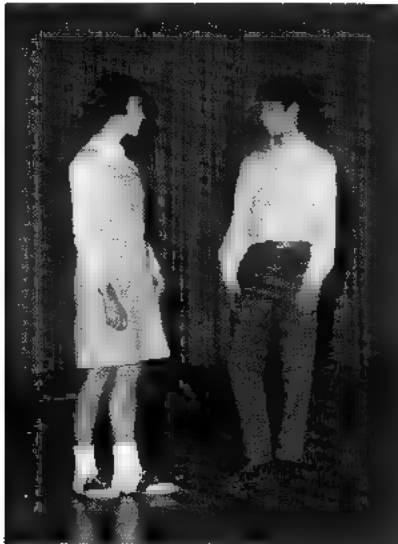

Roger Farmer, Brenda Woodson, and Pat Saurborn seem surprised to see the Junction Staff is already at work.

These distinguished people are: Denita Dalton, Mr. Martin, Phyllis Gay, Mr. Wilkerson and in the rear: Deborah DeLappe and Cathy Shields.

"Take care of yourself, baby!"

The casts includes Janice Holland, Randy Doss, Laura Hines, Roger Farmer, Sherril Moon, Glenn Berger, and Terry Clifton.

"Shame be on the homes that allow Satan in!"

"But I'm not going to have a baby, Mama!"

The Cry Of Crows

"THE CRY OF THE CROWS" is a very dramatic play. The cast does a good job of showing the impressing feelings of the characters involved. Anna, as acted by Sherril Moon, is the main character. Mrs. Thayer and Mrs. Graham, played by Brenda Miles and Laura Hines, have the impression that Anna has been snooping around with Randy Doss. It's not long before the gossip is heard by the Reverend Thompson, acted by Glenn Berger. Anna tells the Reverend that it is all a lie but he still feels that prayer is needed. This play was written by James Lee Beay and should be considered a superior play of the contemporary times. We thank Mr. Terry and Mrs. Berger for their help in this play.

That's what he said . . . "take care of the baby!"

After Ronnie Dillon received his ring he gladly gave Delores Dudley a sentimental kiss.

Seniors Receive Their Class Sky As The Stars

C. J. Brown and Dee Bowler could have danced all night.

Alice Shelton and Brenda Shelton prepare the bulletin board for the dance.

As Richard Cocke received his ring his date, Phyllis Gay, a former GHS student, received comments on her formal outfit.

Rings In The "Stardust" Of The Shine Brightly On Them.

Dancing to the music of the Vista Tones was enjoyed by everyone.

It just can't be all that bad.

On November 23, almost all of the seniors were present at the Gretna High School Cafeteria for the Ring Dance. The cafeteria was decorated with a huge blue parachute that was dotted with stars and silver balls. The dancing music was played by the Vista Tones. At 9 p.m. the well-deserved class rings were presented to the seniors by their escorts under the symbolic gold and blue ring. Afterwards the seniors danced to their theme song, "Stardust" which was played by Mr. Wilkerson. Punch, cake squares, mints, and nuts were served during intermission. The class of '69 should be very proud of their Ring Dance, for it was a great success.

These ladies have our health in mind as they plan our daily meal.

Cafeteria Workers

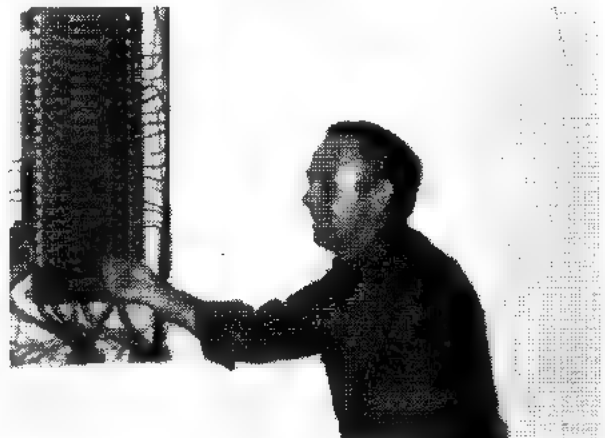

Cafeteria Workers: Mrs. Crider, Mrs. Dalton, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Kennedy, and Mrs. Kepley.

We Carry On With Their Help.

Mrs. Shields works to complete her daily duties.

Custodians

Mr. Davis seems to enjoy his work.

Mr. Earls must be tired after a long day's work.
